NATIONAL ENGINEERING MONTH BEGINS MARCH 1ST

Canada's biggest celebration of engineering and engineering technology

Toronto, January 25, 2018 -- Professional Engineers Ontario (PEO), the Ontario Association of Certified Engineering Technicians and Technologists (OACETT), and the Ontario Society of Professional Engineers (OSPE) kick off National Engineering Month (NEM) - a month-long celebration of engineering pride and knowledge sharing on March 1.

THERE IS A PLACE FOR YOU in engineering and engineering technology! Explore, discover and appreciate how engineering, science and engineering technology improve lives – locally and worldwide. Now in its 27th year, National Engineering Month offers everything from hack-a-thons, to design challenges, to meeting “Super Engineers”, to engineering technology storytelling.

Themed THERE IS A PLACE FOR YOU, NEM 2018 will showcase close to 500 engineering and engineering technology events across Ontario, with some of the most dynamic, innovative engineering and engineering technology forums and activities to date. National Engineering Month Ontario runs alongside events across the country. Engineering and engineering technology is for people of all ages and backgrounds—everyone is welcome and THERE IS A PLACE FOR YOU!
